Briefly

Scout leader convicted of molesting boy

BRIDGEVIEW (UPI) — A former Boy Scout leader was convicted Wednesday of sexually abusing one of his young troop members.

A Cook County Circuit Court jury found Thomas Hacker, 52, guilty of two counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault.

One pyschiatrist testified Hacker admitted to molesting more than 100 boys, including 33 members of Boy Scout Troop 1600. Another testified Hacker told him he sexually abused one of his own sons.

Hacker still faces trials for allegedly molesting 10 other boys.