

Stab Probers Seek Clues From Canvass

Washington Street, where young Mike was reported abducted.

Capt. Koers encouraged the public to continue offering any possible clues in the case to The Star. Those who do so can remain anonymous.

TO GIVE information to The Star, make up a number and write it at the top and bottom of your letter. That number will serve as a claim check number if your information results in an arrest and conviction.

Tear off the bottom of the letter—with your matching identification number—and keep it in a safe place.

Mail the letter to this address:

Bayles Murder Case
The City Editor
The Indianapolis Star
307 North Pennsylvania Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46206

Your information will be given directly to investigators and your identity will—because of the number system—be protected.

Public support of the investigation also continued yesterday with more donations to the Bayles Reward Fund.

THE FUND was started with $5,000 from Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of The Star and The Indianapolis News. Since then, other individuals, businesses and organizations have added pledges totaling more than $1,000.

The latest fund contributors are Local 10 of the Mailers Union, The Star Chapter 1, International Typographical Union, $100; residents of Apt. 205, 7722 Downeybrook Court, Avondale, Va., $1, and Mrs. Alice M. Neal, 3617 Washington Boulevard, $5.

In another effort to raise reward money, the Corpse Club, a fraternity of North Central High School pupils, is planning a hayride and bonfire Saturday from 10 p.m. to midnight.

The fraternity affair, scheduled to begin at the Indianapolis Saddle Horse Barn Inc., 4915 East 56th Street, will cost $1.50 a person.
