

2 'I' Links To Open

Two sections of interstate highway in the Indianapolis area are scheduled to be opened to traffic tomorrow and a third should be open by the end of the year, according to the Indiana State Highway Commission. Sections to be opened are shown in broken lines. A 3.3-mile section of I-69 (1) from Ind. 238 to Ind. 37 in Hamilton

County will open tomorrow. Also opening tomorrow is a 6.2-mile section of I-465 (2) on the North-eastside, which will complete the I-465 loop around Indianapolis. A .9-mile section of I-65 (3) from Northwestern Avenue to 21st Street is expected to be opened in November or December. (Star Map)