

Killer may be held in Kentucky

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Investigators from the Indianapolis Police Department were scheduled today to go to Bowling Green, Ky., to question a 60-year-old Indiana man held there on charges of sexually molesting capital city newsboys earlier this year.

The questioning apparently will center around the slaying of Jerry Michael Bayles, 10, Indianapolis, whose nude body was found a week ago along a Henry County road.

Kentucky authorities contacted IPD officials last weekend and said the man they arrested on earlier warrants resembled a description of the suspect in the Bayles' death.

The description was formulated from a witness' testimony that he saw a man forcing a youth at knifepoint into a dusty, high-finned automobile Oct. 3.

The incident occurred near the site where the Bayles youth's bicycle was later found along with undelivered newspapers.
