Found Slain Oct. 3

EUGENE C. PULLIAM, publisher of The Star and The Indianapolis News, has offered a $5,000 reward for any information in the case which would lead to arrest and conviction. Other individuals and organizations have pledged more than $1,000.

You can supply the facts without revealing yourself to police by writing your information in a letter. Make up a number and write it at the top and bottom of your letter. The sample letter accompanying this story shows how.

Tear off the bottom of the sheet, including your matching identification number, and keep it in a safe place.

Mail the letter to this address:
Bayles Murder Case
The City Editor
The Indianapolis Star,
307 North Pennsylvania Street,
Indianapolis, Indiana 46206

If duplicate information is received which leads to the solution of the murder, the money will be equally divided.

Your information will be given to the Indianapolis Police Department or the Indiana State Police.

If your information results in the arrest and conviction of the slayer or slayers, you may claim your reward anonymously. All you will have to do is submit the torn bottom section of your pieces match, this will provide confirmation for the reward.

SINCE THE NUDE BODY of the newsboy was discovered about 9 a.m. Oct. 3 on a country road near Knightstown, Indiana State Police and Indianapolis police investigators have talked to more than 700 persons in an effort to track down the killer or killers.

The best, and almost only, lead in the case has been supplied by a West-side man who told police that he saw a man pressing a knife against a boy's neck in the first block of South Harris Avenue.

THE WITNESS told police he was driving north on Harris about 6 a.m.
