

Suspect In Bayles Case Is Cleared

The results of lie detector tests given yesterday to a suspect in the Jerry M. (Mike) Bayles kidnap-slaying indicated the suspect was not in the vicinity when the crime occurred, police said.

Although the suspect "checked out," police said it was hoped the suspect might have had information vital to the case.

POLICE SAID also that an auto seat cover, and several garments found Monday along Guion Road under the 38th Street overpass, are not connected with the case.

However, police said they still are checking tips and letters received since the boy's body, punctured with stab wounds, was found Oct. 3 along a country road near Knightstown.
